

Hello,

I'm writing regarding the vote on December 14th regarding Net Neutrality I would strongly urge the FCC to vote "no" to rolling back the net neutrality protections that went into effect in 2015. Creating an environment where ISPs get to decide what people get to see and what speed that information gets to them goes against everything the internet was created for. It would be similar to allowing large corporations to use the interstate while forcing smaller companies who couldn't afford the "privilege" to use small dirt roads to get their products to their customers.

In a truly free economy, this wouldn't be as big of an issue, but there are a significant number of people in this country who don't get to take their money elsewhere should their ISP decide to participate in these shady tactics. In many places, there is only one internet provider, so the choice is between a company who doesn't support open internet or no internet at all. That is hardly a choice that would allow people to "vote with their wallets".

Please do the right thing and vote to keep net neutrality the law of the land.
