

To the FCC:

Net neutrality makes possible the sharing of diverse ideas, empowers individuals and small companies to innovate and prevents corporate bias in sharing information. If we lose net neutrality, we lose the opportunity for everyone to share equally the resources of the modern age.

If this vital asset is lost to the corporate class, we may never get it back. America is on the verge of losing all the gains we have made, do NOT add the freedom of the internet to the list. Please retain net neutrality for the common good.

Richard Kessler