

FCC,

Please continue the open internet as envisioned by the 2015 ruling. Without an open internet the common user will be subjected to the arbitrary will of ISPs to enhance certain premium services at the expense of the average user.. The internet has become a critical medium of information transfer, far surpassing the traditional radio and TV access in the past.. The medium must remain free from corporate and governmental influence.

Regards,

Tony
Anthony Noblett
awnoblett@gmail.com
303-579-1971