

I fully support net neutrality. I do not want my government to give a business the power to control an extremely powerful method of communication, based on decisions made behind closed doors.