

I strongly support net neutrality backed by Title 2 oversight of ISPs. A free and open internet is important for our democracy, our businesses, and our country. Large corporations should not control the internet. It is not in the best interests of the people of the United States.