

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to support strong net neutrality rules backed by Title II protections. Cable/ISP companies already have a monopoly on this essential resource, it would be entirely detrimental to this country's citizenry and interest in fair competition in business.

The Internet should be regulated as necessary to prevent monopolistic companies from serving their own interests at the expense of the American people and economy.