

I urge you to not go through with the FCC plan to regulate net neutrality. The internet is a human right, the UN has stated so as well, and access to internet among marginalized and impoverished communities is a tool that can help people end cycles of poverty and must be provided to all people equally. The internet must stay classified as a common carrier, the survival of the human race depends on it. Do not regulate the internet. I repeat, do not regulate the internet.