

11-108

Received & Inspected

DEC 01 2017

FCC Mailroom

Dear FCC,

You have requested that we write to you with facts and legal terms, because you have disregarded both our opinions, and the very definition of a democracy.

Therefore, I request that you look at the Clayton Antitrust Act of 1914. Or, if you do not want to go through the trouble, I shall summarize it here. The Act is enforced by the FTC, or Federal Trade Commission, and clarifies "price discrimination, price fixing, and unfair business practices," as stated by Investopedia.

BUCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

Third section, in particular, is the one I would like your attention to be on. It specifies on how creating a monopoly is unlawful. That is, it would violate an amendment. If you require proof that repeating Net Neutrality is unlawful, ~~then~~ then I am bringing that proof directly to your attention and I am sending you a url for a pdf of the Act, which you may peruse at your leisure.

No. of Copies rec'd List ABCDE

jwcl.com/Library/America/USA/

The%20Clayton%20Act.pdf

IF you don't vote to uphold net
neutrality, no one will vote for you ever again. Myself included, forever and always.

-A Frustrated and Tired
College Student