

Like many others, I am in support of net neutrality backed by Title II oversight of ISPs. That you would choose to ignore public comments that aren't legal arguments constitutes dereliction of duty on your part.