Dear Chairman Pai,

I write to support the Comments of the Cable Act Preservation Alliance ("CAPA") and to disapprove of the proposals and tentative conclusions set forth in the FCC's September 25 Further Notice of Proposed Rule Making in Implementation of Section 621(a)(1) of the Cable Communications Policy Act of 1984 as Amended by the Cable Television Consumer Protection and Competition Act of 1992, MB Docket 05-311.

As I once described to this commission's bureau chief in Washington last month - namely, Michelle Carey - there was a ruling that was recently proposed on the deprivation of nationwide funding for local public access media centers, including the ones for which I rightfully became a member, Somerville Media Center and Brookline Interactive Group, both earlier this summer and the spring of 2012, respectively. More specifically, I feel like I've not only taken advantage of most of their provided respective services and resources to which most ambitious and struggling content creators like myself have been gaining access, I hold a firm belief in the staggering power of free speech and its purposes according to our country's First Amendment as well as the impact of the independent media I create and uphold - as do many other content creators nationwide, with an undying intent to enhance civic engagement and diverse voices and demonstrate my support for said independent media. However, because of the aforementioned ruling, my chances of even continuing to create and share my own media - as many others have since even before the days of YouTube - are in excruciating peril, as I am unable to imagine myself doing anything else other than the current occupation, career and fate that I have picked.

I am seeking, as are many media centers within my area and beyond, to have this discriminatory ruling dismantled as soon as humanly possible, taking today's deadline into steadfast consideration. Please respond to me regarding this complaint at KarasMMX@gmail.com. I look forward to hearing from you soon and to a complete resolution to this important matter.

Thank you for your utmost consideration.

Sincerely,

Karbia Yuan
