

I strongly support net neutrality. Rolling back this policy will have devastating consequences and will restrict access to internet freedom.