

I strongly support net neutrality rules. I specifically support the rules as backed by title II oversight of ISPs. We cannot allow unfettered ISP control over the marketplace of ideas on the internet, an argument articulated by scholars and the people from Louis Brandeis onward.