

I am a radio amateur and a member of the local ARES (Amateur Radio Emergency Service) organization. I believe that the availability of high-speed digital communications on HF frequencies is vitally important for the ability of amateur radio operators to provide effective assistance in a variety of emergency-response scenarios. I fully support the position of the ARSFI, in favor of approving FCC 16-239.

Mark Davis - AD7EF