	Host, Attorney Harold and Brenda Ray interview Pastor and Attorney Dr. O'Neil Dozier and his wife, Attorney Leketia Dozier of The World Wide Christian Center. Leketia Dozier shares how the Lord has placed her and Dr. O'Neil in a very poverty-stricken area, where drugs are ramped. Their area of ministry is that of the black people, the poor and drug addicts. They share how The World Wide Christian Center has become a place of refuge for these people. The Dozier's have shown the people in this area how God desires for them to prosper in all areas of their lives.			09-08-90 4:30p	59:48

	In another segment of this program, Attorney Harold and Brenda Ray interview Captain Ronald Busroe from the Broward County Salvation Army. Captain Busroe talks about the new facility that they have just completed in Broward County for the poor and homeless. He explains how the Salvation Army is able to help these people with paying utility bills, rent and getting food for them. He further explains that they hold Sunday morning church services there, too. Busore says, "You've not only got to feed them physically, but spiritually as well."			09-08-90 4:30p	59:48

	Director for Department of Detention Broward Sheriff's Office. Bates mentions that the difference between a jail sentence and prison sentence is that a jail sentence is either for a pre-trial person or those sentenced to less than one year. He mentions they have never experienced such a degree of overcrowding before. The Judge speaks on guidelines they follow in their sentencing.

	Attorney Arold and Brenda Ray host an interview with Attorney Jack Thompson. Thompson speaks on the issue of obscenity and explains the major role that it plays in sexual abuse. He is against the group "2 Live Crew" because, through the lyrics of their songs, they are promoting sexual abuse of women, targeting women for rape. Thompson defines for us what constitutes some thing as being obscene. He explain that the FCC has instituted a ban on indecency and he solicits the viewers to pray and encourage the law to proceed.

	Pastor Clifford and Nedda Horvath interview Steve Cronk the Miami Area Director for Prison Fellowship USA. Cronk explains how he himself was a prisoner at one time. He flew a drug mission and got caught, was arrested and sent to jail. Cronk knows what it is like inside the walls of a cell and he has experienced firsthand the hardness of the inmates that fill these prisons. When Cronk met the Lord, what he had experienced while inprison stirred a desire within him to go back to the prisons and share with these men what Jesus can do for them and how Jesus had so changed his life.

Attorney Harold Ray Moderates a panel discussion on the crime of obscenity/pornography. Panelists: Vincent Rizzitello, a detective with the Organized Crime Division; Gary Daughenbaugh, also a detective with the same police department; James S. Benjamin, Criminal Defense Attorney point out the Supreme Court has defined obscenity in a three-pronged test that is difficult to prove. The panelists discussed methods whereby obscenity can be proven as a crime. The detectives point out that what they seek to eradicate is hard core pornography, but Mr. Benjamin defended the rights of adults to view whatever they choose. Cross-discussion resulted in what made obscenity a crime followed.

Keith Phillips, President of World Impact, discusses with Host Jay Jones, ways his organization is attempting to address the rising crime rate, especially among youth and children. Author of No Quick Fix, Phillips describes the breakdown of the family unity and its impact on several areas; the deterioration of education, the rise in use of drugs, crime and delinquency. Lack of parental support due to divorce or simply one parent homes, poverty, lack of supervision, all contribute to first petty thievery, then use of drugs, leading to the sale of drugs and more serious crimes. Phillips has opened schools to teach drop-outs and has started churches that reach out to teach hope and self-respect.

Gangs and gang related violence are the topics of discussion of hosts Jerry and Sandi Barnard. Jerry Barnard states that there are 500 different gangs in the greater Los Angeles area and when questioned individually and corporately, gang members state they were violent because they were treated violently all their lives. Jerry Barnard tells viewers about his church and their programs for making a place for gang members and tells viewers they must go beyond their church walls and meet the needs of their own community by addressing the problem of gangs/crime on the affirmative action level. He encourages churches to develop programs that address their own community needs.

Guest Fred Hunter, Mayor of Anaheim, California, discussed city life, over-population, and drug problems in Orange County with host Jay Jones. Mayor Hunter, a former policeman, relates the growing population rate to the growth of the crime rate. He says drug awareness should begin at a very early age and that the ultimate answers to our crime problems is a strong family unit, education, and knowledgeable, professional law enforcement. Neighborhood watch programs, and CAP (Community Action Policing) which teaches the community how to be involved in building trust with the local law enforcement personnel, are also excellent programs for inner cities.

Attorney Harold and Brenda Ray interview Charles Mullins, Associate Pastor at West Lauderdale Baptist Church. Mullins shares how at a young age he began sniffing gasoline and he explains that this was the cheapest way to gain a "high." In trying to fill this void in his life and subdue his hurt and depression, he eventually turned to drugs, alcohol, cocaine, and heroine, always thinking that eventually something would fill this void he had. Not until he met Jesus Christ was this void ever filled. He has found access to God today through Jesus Christ.

Host Pastor Bill and Esther Illnisky interview Richard Dodge, Executive Director of Turning Point and Founder of Christian Addicts Anonymous and Steven Ingram, Administrative Director of Turning Point, a drug rehabilitation center. They explain how the program is a six month process in which the addict begins by finding out who he really is. The recovering addict lives in the facility like a half-way house and is put into support groups as they work through this rehabilitation process. If a person still requires further help after six months, they keep them longer, but if after six months the person is ready to get out on his own, free from addiction, Turning Point will help them find a place to live.

Co-host, Sheila Walsh, introduces a program segment regarding sexually transmitted diseases which have now proven to follow the same geographical route as proven drug distribution routes in America. Where drug distribution routes occur, statistics prove that syphilis, AIDS, etc. also increases. Prostitution, homosexuality begins to proliferate outward geographically from drug distribution points. A growing heterosexual and teenage population is now showing an increase in the AIDS virus. Because of their need for drug money, heterosexuals are selling their bodies and then bringing home the AIDS virus to their mates. Walsh states that winning the war on drugs is one solution to fighting the problem of AIDS, etc.

Host, Pastor Chuck Smith, PASTOR of Calvery Chapel, Costa Mesa, California, interviews guests Deborah Critchfield, Lisa Wickham, Mike MacIntosh, Dennis Agajanian, and Chico Holiday regarding their life stories with emphasis on their involvement with substance abuse. Deborah relates to viewers that she was a product of a broken home and gives reasons for her drug involvement and the fact that she did attempt suicide. Lisa tells viewers she was an over-achiever and the pressure of peers and self-pressure pushed her into a life-style of drug abuse. MacIntosh Agajanian and Holiday all relate that their drug-alcohol abuse carried over into their adult lives. Each guest gives viewers their own solutions that helped, especially a relationship with Jesus Christ, and each guest says that they had a family member that stood by them and helped. Pastor Chuck Smith gave a history of Calvery Chapel and the fact that most of their members came out of the 60's hippie/Jesus movement and had backgrounds in drug abuse. 	Dr. Kennedy devotes the entire program to the problems in public education in America. Kennedy relates facts such as 4 out of 1,000 were illiterate 150 years ago when education was left in the hands of the church and now illiteracy has increased 32 times. America now has 27 million illiterate and 30 million functional illiterates. America now approaches Zambia in the percentage of illiteracy. The history of modern education is discussed with examples of Horace Mann and Thomas Dewey education methods. Kennedy offers proof of the decline of good education in America and the resulting poor job-ready population. His solution is based upon the reversal of education by state and in place, the education of the masses by the church. Kennedy says that the crime and problems in our present day school system is directly related to a God-less education.

Sandy Gogel, a home-schooling expert and founder of Sycamore Tree School, spoke about the advantages of home schooling. Along with an array of resource materials and educational aids displayed, Sandy also explained to host, Jay Jones, why home schooled children are testing higher on aptitude tests than public school students. The problems with public schools and private schools were listed as educational, motivational and a conflict with home-parental values. Benefits of home schooling were listed as a perfect teacher/student ratio, no peer pressure and parental values can be taught without conflict. Home schooling has been proven to develop better leadership skills than public schools which tend to develop problem children and/or build upon problems already inherent within the child.

A program segment is devoted to the subject of restructuring the public school system by initiating a free market policy. Parents would be able to choose any school and the schools would, in turn, be rewarded with additional resources and monies if they establish high education standards. Academic excellence is the desired result of this free market policy. Hosts, Pat Robertson and Sheila Walsh, discuss the present school system and the problems inherent within it as compared to the promised results of the free market system in our public schools.

Host, Pastor Richard and Patrice Risi interview Cris Enriquez of the Rapha Medical Center. Enriquez shares how that this medical center is like none other. Enriquez's facility is actually free of charge. That's right; it is a place for those who would otherwise not be able to afford to see a doctor. The Rapha Medical Center provides free healthcare services, doctors visits and examinations at no cost. The facility is run strictly by donations alone. The Lord instructed Enriquez to open this facility and therefore he believes the Lord will supply the needs.

	Host, Harold Ray, an attorney, conducted a panel discussion with guests: Musical Therapist, Lee Lambert, founder of Musickinetics; Marilyn Vonseggern, Supervisor of Music Education; and Charles Southland, S.P.M., Doctor of Podiatric Medicine. They discuss research regarding music as a therapy tool to elicit non-musical Activities and stimuli. The effects of music on anxiety during medical treatment, even surgery, and the fact that most illnesses are created initially by stress areas in our lives is discussed. Research in education are on-going to prove that music, especially symphonic music may be an actual preventive to disease. Because music transcends all nationalities, religions, etc., the research can be taken throughout the world in the educational fields.

	Hosts, Pat Robertson and Shiela Walsh, interview guest guest, Dr. Ricardo Morah, a dermatologist regarding the cancer factor from over exposure to the sun. According to Dr. Morah, the average American is simply not aking the precautions that are necessary to prevent sun exposure leading to cancer, especially American youth. Dr. Morah suggests greater public awareness including education and media informational public service announcements.

	The entire program is devoted to an in-depth discussion of preventive medicine and good health care with guest, Dr. Donald Whitaker. Host, Jay Jones, and Dr. Whitaker relate to viewers that most health problems are brought about by wrong eating habits and lack of good nutrition. Dr. Whitaker said that there is a great difference between your chronologic and biologic age (health age). Viewers are told that
