Crime (con't)	on Crime, with special reference to using neighborhood watches to fight against it. Panelists: Capt. William Burn, Ft. Lauderdale Police Dept.; Cynthia Wood, Neighborhood crime fighter; Jerry Kolo, Assist. Professor of Urban and Regional Planning, Florida Atlantic University; Carolyn Homer, Ft. Lauderdale Police Aide. They defined the vigilante group who try to take things into their own hands. They discuss ways to help citizens eliminate the fear they feel in getting involved should they report what they see. Neighborhoods need to be taught how to effectively cooperate with all authorities, city, county, state and federal levels.

	Sheila Walsh introduced a program segment devoted to women in prison and crime. Reporter, Cynthia Glaser, relayed to viewers several stories of women in prison and details of the crimes they committed. Many attitudes of prisoners were displayed showing various emotions from sorrow for being in prison to sorrow for getting caught. The primary reason given for crimes committed was the need to have money for drugs. Repeat offenders told viewers that their lack of education and good work background was the cause for their return to crime. Prison officials stated that repeat offenders became manipulative and untrustworthy. Viewers are told to become involved in legislating good education for all and laws to prevent crime and punish repeat offenders.

	Dr. Clifford and Nedda Horvath interview Clay Foster, Co-ordinator for the Community Participation Dept. of the Dade County Public Schools. The particular program that Foster focuses in on is the "Listen to Children" program. Foster explains that the type of listening that is spoken of here is that of active listening. Active listening involves direct eye contact with the child, allowing the child to express his area of problem one on one with someone who has the time to listen and then help the child through the particular subject of problem on their level and at a pace comfortable for the child. Foster has found that reading, science and math are the subjects that are most commonly a problem.

	Pastor Richard and Patrice Risi interview Pastor Charles Schmitz, Founder-Headmaster of Christian Liberty Academy and his wife Barbara, a teacher at the Academy. The Schmitz's explain that within their Academy the Beca system is used. The Academy is that of a home structural atmosphere where a child is able to be given more personalized instruction than what he would be given in the normal setting of a crowded public school classroom. Although the teachers are not certified "per say" as a homeschool parent is not certified, the students are given the normal standard achievement tests in order to determine their progress. Overall, the students in the academy have tested well above the average child at their age. Barbara explains some of their particular methods of teaching and makes note that they do incorporate the Word of God.

Education/ Schools	A Call To Action #55 Ty Bragg reported that secular humanism in the public schools of America is increasing. It has been discovered that our textbooks are inaccurate in numerous ways. Mistakes in dates, geography and other factual errors have been discovered. Textbooks have had to be returned to publishers to be completely re-done and then found to still have errors after the second publication. Jay Sekulow and Ty Bragg agreed that this condition is because the church has stayed too far out of the schools. Jay and Ty discussed the fact that the National Association of Education actually have a pamphlet printed telling schools how to deal with parents that question textbooks and curriculum, etc. Viewers were encouraged to become involved and serve on textbook review committees. 	Sandy Gogel, a home-schooling expert and founder Sycamore Tree School , spoke about the advantages of home schooling. Along with an array of resource materials and educational aids displayed, Sandy also explained to the host, Jay Jones, why home school children are tested higher on aptitude tests than public school students. The problems with public schools and private schools were listed as educational, motivational and a conflict with home/parental values. Benefits of home schooling were listed as perfect teacher/student ratio, no peer pressure and parental values can be taught without conflict. Home schooling has been proven to develop better leadership skills than public schools which tend to develop problem children and/or build upon problems already inherent within the child.

Homeless	Miami Praise The Lord 1026-90 Pastor Isaiah and Gloria Williams interview Pastor Andy Zoppelt, Pastor and President of Community Care Christian Fellowship. One of the outreach programs that Zoppelt's ministry includes is that of a street ministry to the homeless. Community Care feeds and clothes these homeless people. Zoppelt says that the street people accept him as they see that his heart is for them. Zoppelt explains that his desire is not only to pass out the bread that nourishes the body, but to give them the "Bread of Life" that will fill the spirit man with everlasting life. 	In another segment of this program, Pastor Isaiah and Gloria Williams interview minister Nathaniel and Joyce Williams, Coordinators of the "Gospel Summer Fest." This outreach is to those who might never set foot into a church but would attend a street meeting. Last year, there were over 3,000 people in attendance, a lot of them were the homeless. At this festival, the people are feed as well as having various community needs met. The prostitutes, the alcoholics, the drug abusers, the criminals (the street people) are ministered to by people who at one time were in that very situation, but were set free by the saving and delivering power of the Lord Jesus Christ.			10-27-90 4:30A	1:59:48

Ron gives us the shocking statistics that there are over 30 million people living on the streets without a place to call home. In Miami there are over 5,000 people who live in the streets and in the winter that number doubles to 10,000 homeless. Maida says that she cooks for at least 400 people every Saturday but, this does not even touch near the number of people that are out there. Loving Neighbors Ministries while not able to provide homes for these people, are able to offer a place of refuge through God's Son Jesus Christ.

Jay Jones interviewed Fran Lundquist of the Sheepfold, a home for homeless women and their children. The Sheepfold takes in mothers who are having a hard time financially providing for their minor dependent children. There are 7 different phases of aid that the Sheepfold gives with one of the most important being financial management. These phases are described to viewers as steps for the women to take to become independent from the aid of Sheepfold. Fran told viewers that there are 6,000 homeless women and children in Orange County, making it the largest homeless group on the country. Viewers are told how to become involved by bringing in clothes and making financial donations to places like the Sheepfold that are trying to help the homeless.

LaVerne and Edith Tripp. Mrs. Jordan told viewers that in the past years she used to see only men, but now she sees more women and children that are on the streets. Viewers are told that there are over 1 million homeless people in America. Domestic abuse is on an epidemic rise resulting in the break-up of homes and women and children are becoming our homeless population. Mrs. Jordan outlines how the poverty cycle for children can be broken and that society is benefitted when this occurs. Host, Pastor Bill and Esther Ilnisky, interview Steve Cronk, Miami Area Director, Prison Fellowship USA. Cronk explains how he was involved in a life of crime and in December of 1981 he found himself behind steel bars as prison inmate. There at the lowest point in his life, Jesus became real to him. Today he has not forgotten where he came from and who brought him out. Now he seeks to make Jesus known to those who are still behind bars. He says that the soaring crime rates, high recidivism and broken families illustrate the challenge that lies before us(Christians).

Pastor Isaiah and Gloria Williams host an interview with Marcia Sandler, Public Information Officer/Crime Watch and Director of the R-U-OK Program with the Hallandale Police Department, also with Sandler is Sergeant Myra Barnett with the Hallandale Police Department. Sandler explains that the R-U-OK program is a free crimewatch type program that has been established for the safety of the older population of the city of Hallandale. Sandler and Barnett give viewers some very helpful tips on ways to avoid the occasion of setting yourself up for being a victim of a crime. As an example Sandler says that it is not wise to leave your purse or wallet in your cart as you shop. As quickly as you are able to reach over and grab a can of peas, you may also quickly find that before you even have time to look up, your money has been snatched. Sandler gives us some real life instances in which people have become a victim of crime by their own negligence and she gives us very practical ways to avoid this type of thing happening to us.

Attorney Harold Ray moderates a panel discussion on crime with special reference to using neighborhood watches to fight against it. Panelists: Captain William Burn, Ft. Lauderdale Police Department; Cynthia Wood, Neighborhood Crime Fighter; Jerry Kolo, Assistant Professor of Urban and Regional Planning, Florida Atlantic University; and Carolyn Homer, Ft. Lauderdale Police Aide. They defined the vigilante group who try to take things into their own hands. They discuss ways to help citizens eliminate the fear they feel in getting involved should they report what they see. Neighborhoods need to be taught how to effectively cooperate with all authorities; city, county, state, and federal levels.

	Pastor Bill host an interview with Evangelist Becky Ferree from Cleveland, Tennessee. Ferree talks of her drug addiction she had for 3½ years. Ferree though that through drugs she could obtain happiness. Ferree explains how she took so much LSD that for days at a time she could not care for herself. Ferree said that even the friends that gave her drugs eventually dis-owned her. Ferree said that she lost everything, a good job, apartment, everything that she thought that would bring her happiness was disappearing. Ferree tells how her mother had been praying for her for 3½ years. Becky's brother Mike Ferree who at that time was a drug user, introduced Becky to drugs originally, but after Mike was delivered God used his as the instrument to witness to Becky, which in turn lead her to deliverance also. Becky talks of how God delivered her, to where she had no desire for drugs anymore and never experienced withdrawals. Becky said God broke the chains over her life and tells of how the people who did drugs with her are now all dead due to drugs.

	Attorney, Harold Calvin Ray, interviewed guests, Bob Bashaw, a former alcoholic and now instructor at Faith Farm , Dr. Chuck Larkin, a Christian psychologist and John Glenn, Director of Ministry Training at Faith Farm . Discussion centered around what the meaning of the term "dysfunction" meant in light of today's problems, including drug and alcohol abuse, The underlying cause of substance abuse is anger, fear and emotional pain. These factors cause a dysfunctional personality and the individual may appear "happy" on the surface but in reality is on the brink of emotional disaster. Help should come in form of helping the individual understand the underlying causes of the problem. Facing the problem and taking steps toward emotional health is important to the person trying to get off drugs and/or alcohol.
