Dear Mr. Caton,

I would like to express my support for Apple's petition, RM-8653.

I am a Engineer involved in remediation and prevention of ground water pollution. As a engineer and future government manager, I believe that the allocation of public airwaves to wireless data transmission as Apple's petition proposes, would open up unprecedented opportunity for communication and collaboration between scientists, engineers, academics, and related professionals.

I would also like to draw your attention to David Ross' excellent letter to you on this subject, dated July 7. I cannot overemphasize the importance of this proposal for helping our aging veterans and the handicapped.

Finally, I believe that providing such a widespread, inexpensive access to the National Information Infrastructure is vital to the long-term economic health of the nation. Our economy depends increasingly upon a well-educated and well-informed work force. This proposal promises to dramatically enhance the educational opportunities of citizens at all levels of education at a minimal cost to the government. Thus this proposal is consistent with both the Democratic agenda of equal opportunity to women, minorities, and the poor, and the Republican agenda of achieving such goals at a minimum expense to the taxpayer.

Sincerely,

Dennis A. Frederick, P.E.
