I ask that quality and quantity be mandated in any revisions to this Act.

Current programming makes it clear that this will be the only way to avoid lowest-common-denominator preferences determining what my children can watch on television. As examples, "Biker Mice from Mars" and "America's Funniest Home Videos" are content- and information-free, and therefore not educational by any reasonable definition of that term.

Hello,

I am strongly in favor of quality and quantity requirements on educational and/or children's broadcasting. Children compose a large percentage of the TV audience, and yet their needs are not catered to; they see too much advertising and not enough good, non-violent role-modeling.

In our household, as in a growing number of homes, we said "ENOUGH" quite some time ago to television broadcasting. First we turned off the set; then we cancelled cable. The only shows we miss are "Christy" on the Family Channel, and the classics (when decency still reigned) on American Movie Classics. We have an 8-year old son, who reads on a 12th grade level...as a direct result. On Saturday mornings, we find him curled up in bed reading the Hardy Boys Mysteries, or Mutiny on the Bounty, or Tom Sawyer. He is happy, well adjusted and full of hope because we do not allow the secular media world to pollute his mind with gargage and hopelessness. If we want to watch something, we play one of the many videos that we own, or we rent something uplifting from the Christian book store...i.e., C.S. Lewis. Our home and family classes at church advocate pulling the plug; radio is a much better alternative.

I recommend that you wake up to the hunger for decency and wholesomeness, and begin to take your influence over the young minds of America seriously.

Maybe one solution is to require that all children's television be approved by a committee of parents and educators prior to broadcast... and with the committee being made quite clear that they don't have to approve ANYTHING that doesn't contain significant educational and/or social content.

Most children's television today isn't even worthy of being flushed down a sewer.

Like numerous American citizens around me, I am appalled by the poor quality of children's television programming. Given free use of public airwaves, the big three networks have made a mockery of their public service and educational responsibilities. It is obvious to any critical observer of these trends that unless they are forced to do otherwise, our television broadcasters will continue to provide our children with worthless pabulum. The time has come to require our broadcasters to provide worthwhile television which meets standards of genuine educational and social value.

To Whom it May Concern:

Please don't give in to the content producers on this one. They would have you believe that requiring them to provide educational programming and quality children's programming is over-regulation. How can they justify such a feeling? They certainly haven't been able to provide such programming on their own.

They are too beholden to their advertisers. Quality programming doesn't sell product, so they can't _afford_ to produce it. That's ridiculous. We, the people, have entrusted our precious broadcast spectra and cable monopolies to them, but not for the purpose of turning around and selling these resources back to advertisers.

While I don't deny the broadcasters their pursuit of the almighty dollar, I also don't think that they are balancing that pursuit with responsible use of their granted monopolies. This is why we need regulations to enforce such responsibility. In an ideal world, such regulation wouldn't be necessary. However, we've given the broadcasters the benefit of the doubt for long enough, and they haven't earned our trust.

It's time to force them to provide quality children's programming and quality educational programming. Please do your part to make it so.

Dear Commissioner E Hundt :

All the bad shows are for parents, why are they complaining? I think the shows for kids are good. I think all the shows are good except for a couple. I don't think that there is a lot of violence on T.V. for kids .

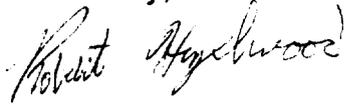

" Full House" is a good show because it is about a family who has three girls. It shows a family should stick together It shows what a family should be like, and what a family can go through.

I think another good program on T.V is " Rugrats" because it's a funny show and there's nothing bad about the show. There's no bad words and there are no guns. That is the reasons I like the show " Rugrats."

I think the best shows on T.V for education are "National Geographic". and "Biography". Both of the shows teach a lot about people and how they act. They also tell you about plants and animals.

My opinion on children T.V is that it is very good. Mr. Hundt can you please write back to tell me what you are going to do. Mr E Hundt can you please stop by our school? Thank you for your time.

I award you the "Amy Sheppard Great Shows Award". I think "Avonlea" and "Home Improvement" are good children's T.V. shows because it brings family together. They are funny and interesting to watch.

They say that people all over the world can be different and view the in different ways. They are not violent. They have influenced me and my friends. They say all people can make mistakes and part of life is dealing with that. These shows are also good family entertainment. They are also about families like us.

I think these shows are good for children because they are a good influence. Children are shown the difference between good and bad. The shows show children that life can be fun and full of decisions at the same time.

I would like to see more of these type of shows on the air. I would like to hear from you about your opinion of children's T.V. ~~We~~ would welcome you to our classroom if you would like to talk about this with us. Thank you for your time.

The things you show on T.V. are good but some shows are not good for the kids. How come you put some of the shows on cable because some kids do not have cable.

The good thing about T.V. is that it is educational for little kids. The one T.V. show you should take off is "Barney" that show is so boring. Nobody likes to watch that show at all. The one thing you should make is new episodes for shows like "FULL HOUSE" and the "SIMPSONS."

My family likes the like "X-MEN", "THE TICK" and "SPIDER -MAN". Please don't cancel any good shows but you could cancel all the boring shows. You could cancel these shows if you want: "ROUND HOUSE," "REAL WORLD" and "DARK WING DUCK".

Dear Commissioner Hundt:

I think that kids just sit on the couch and stare at the T.V., though I think it's good to watch, but just as long as it's not watched too frequently.

All of the shows have a moral at the end of it. In "Saved by the Bell," it shows that you shouldn't cheat, and in "Full House," it shows that families belong together. In "Gargoils," they say it's o.k. to be different.

Some shows, show how to help the envirmont. In another episode of "Saved by the Bell," it showed how oil spills can cause a lot of damage, it also shows how to clean up the envirmont .

Children's television, shows that you should respect your family. In "The Secret World of Alex Mack," it shows two sisters getting along, that might reflect on brothers or sisters to get along with their brothers or sisters. In "Family Matters," it shows a loving family sharing their experiences. "Full House," shows real life people who act like a family who loves each other.

I don't really know how to make kids watch less T.V., (which is the main problem) but maybe you can put on less children's show or\and scatter them around during the day so that five children's shows aren't on in a row so that the kids get bored with the news or tennis games and they go outside and play, and get energy.

Thank you for taking your time to read my paper. Please write back with your response to my letter and the action you took to improve children's television. I'm sure that you will take the right action to improve children's T.V. I would really be pleased if you could visit our class and tell us about your career .

First of all,
I want to ask a important question. Why is there so much violece things on television and why do people on television say so many bad words? I watched a movie and there is always bad wodrs.

I think that other programs like "Sister Sister" are good programs. It is a positive program it is entertaining, it has no violent, things and it's funny. I think that it is good because it tells you how people fight and after all the fighting they come back together again and they always work out their problems with good resolutions.

I think that "Sister Sister" has good examples for people who have twins, and were separaded from each other. I think that it's good for people.

Another program I enjoy is "Full House" I think that "Full House" is funny it's entertaining, it's positive and it has no violent things. those are the reasons I like it and I think that it gives good examples for big families. Thank you for your time.

Dear Commissioner Reed Hundt,

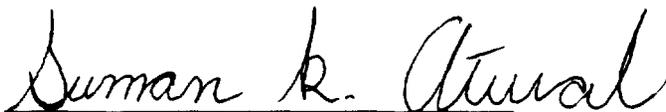

MR. REED you are going to pay for the violence kids do , even though I like childerens television. I still think violence is bad . I am going to tell you what a good T.V. show is like "Family Matters"

It strengthens families , like for example, every one trusts each other, they respect each other, and honestly help each other. They are a good family and that is what counts.

They also talk about the environment , for example , they do not litter and the try to stop others from littering. Carl I is a police officer so he keeps the environment and the streets clean of violence.

They even have tips on education, like for example they say no to drugs , not to do violence, recpeact your parents, friends, and teachers, this show also teaches you to do what your heart tells you to do not what others tell you to.

So Mr. Reed Hundt please take most of the violence off of childeren television and I was wondering if you will write back to me or even better come visit us in S-8 and tell us what you are going to do about the violence on T.V., and I hope you know how much I appreciate that you are taking your own time to read this letter.

Dear Commissioner Hundt

I think children's television is quite violent Shows like, "POWER RANGERS," "X MEN", and many more are very violent in those shows. There is always violence. Little kids think it is normal They also use animals to kill and animals have nothing to do with killing.

So I want you to take care of this problem because it's not normal for kids

Kids television has some good shows "FULL HOUSE" "FAMILY MATTERS" and "SISTER SISTER". These are good shows they show family communication there always there for each other and they stick together in problems. And that's what kids should see.

These shows also tell use to how save the enviornment because we only have one and if we don't take care of it who will? It says to stay in school because without education we will get nowhere

So all these shows have something bad and something good . I want you, Commissioner Hundt, to take violence out and put education in. I hope to see you in Alvarado Middle some time soon and I expect you to answer this letter.

Dear Commissioner Hundt:

Some shows are really starting to bug me, but not children's shows. They're great! Everyday on Nick which is channel 27, they show "Rugrats." It is a really cool cartoon. "Rugrats" is very funny. It's about babies going through all sorts of adventures. It's not violent at all. I watch it everyday with my cousin. I think it should stay on Nick forever!

On Tuesday "Full House" is on at 8:00. I watch it every Tuesday, but it was cancelled. Could you do something about that because I love that show ?

Sometimes I watch "90210" , but because I always go to piano lessons the same time it starts I miss it . "90210" is not a children show , but I still like to watch it. "90210" is a drama type show . It's informational because it talks about drugs and how it could hurt you. It is not violent . They only use words for fighting. I think it is a good show for everyone to watch. Even children. My mom watches it with me. It used to be a popular show, but now it isn't.

Another show I watch is "TGIF." They only show it on Fridays. "TGIF" is lots of different shows put together. They don't combined it , they only show it side by side. "TGIF" is a children's show . They show "Step By Step" which is about sisters and brothers . It is like the Brady Bunch , but it's more in the 90's. Then there is "Boy Meets World." It's about a boy named Cory experiencing things of life. It is entertaining . There are more shows on "TGIF" , but there are to many shows I can't name them all.

You're doing great with T.V. shows because most of my favorite shows are mostly on T.V.

You should take violence out T.V."ams. Some of the kid's shows are violent and some are not . Most of the shows I watch are not violent and some are. There is one of my T.V. shows that is not violent and I like to watch it a lot . It is called Home Improvement. It shows that people aren't always right or good at everything. It tells that women can do every thing that men/boys can do. It shows families how to get along and how to make the right choices for every one else.

One of the T.V. shows I watch that is kind of violent and is "Simpsons ". It shows that family can get a long with each other and that some of the T.V. shows that they watch is violent too . Giving a birthday gift can make people happy and they like you a lot . In one house there lives five people and sometimes they get a long and some times they don't . Dear Commissioner Hundt:

Hello! I think television is great but sometimes I think too much is going on. I like to watch T.V. My favorite television shows are "Animaniacs", "Full House", "The Crew", "Fudge", and "Sesame Street". But I think you should show more television shows for children ages five and under. For example "Barney the Dinosaur", "Sesame Street", "Shining Time Station", "Thomas the Tank Engine", "Muppet Babies" and a lot more.

I like to watch the television show called "FUDGE". It is on every Saturday at 9:00 AM. It is on ABC. It is about a little boy (Fudge) who always bothers who always bothers his older brother, Peter. Fudge always gets into all sorts of trouble. He even calls his teacher "RATFACE". Fudge likes to eat ice cream for breakfast. He likes peanut butter and olives on white bread for lunch. And ice cream for dinner too. He likes chocolate syrup with everything. He is a bright five year old boy whom is very smart and dislike school very, very, very much. He can spell, all sorts of words and likes to show off his knowledge to the girl next door, Sheila and Peter's bestest friend in the world, Jimmy Fargo. He adores it when Peter's friends come over to their home to visit. And plus Fudge annoys everyone. AND BELIEVE ME HE GETS INTO A LOT OF TROUBLE.

How come there is too much violence on television? I mean, when I turn on the T.V. I hear a gun shot and someone is dead. It is not funny, Commissioner Hundt. Knives and guns is what people see on T.V. That is not what a television is for. A television is for entertainment, NOT for violence. WHAT IS NEXT, COMMISSIONER HUNDT?

Thank you for taking your time to read my letter. Please stop television and world violence if you can. Thank you again.

Dear Commissioner Hundt:

Kid sets home on fire after watching "Beavis and Butthead", "Beavis and Butthead" is show on M.T.V. on Sundays at 10 to 10:30 pm. A lot of kids with cable T.V. watch it.

This show maybe good and funny to some, but actually it is garbage and promotes violence.

The language they use is not recommended for children and not even for teenagers. I have seen on the news how a child reacted by watching "Beavis and Butthead". The result ,he set a fire and almost burned down his house .

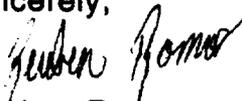

I have seen "Beavis and Butthead" only once and Mom never let me watch it again.

It will be good if we could have more shows like "Doug" on Nick. Jr. and "Reading Rainbow".

The best thing I like about "Reading Rainbow" is that towards the end of the show they recommend books which are available at the library, they also have good music which attracts children. These shows are really funny, cool, and educational. They are highly recommended for kids.

So now that you know the facts, I would highly appreciate it if you would take action!
Thank you for your time and cooperation.

Who is the yellow colored skin family in channel forty-four? Well, they're the "Simpsons." the Simpsons is a family with children that always makes mistakes. The characters in the " Simpsons" are Bart, Lisa, Maggie, Homer, and Marge. Bart which is the only son that causes most of the trouble. The show is very rude because he shows his under pants. He disrespects his dad by calling him Homer.

They always plays pranks on other people. Homer chokes Bart when he gets mad at him. The T.V. show is entertainment because its funny and its on every day with different episodes.

The characters in the Simpsons are different from us because of the way they look. I think the show is good to watch because it makes me laugh and its on everyday and some times it teaches people a lesson. I think it is good to watch for everybody because it makes me laugh when Im bored. I like the show so much that I also hope that you can put it on weekends. I hope you write me back.

Dear Commissioner Hundt:

Most of television is garbage and you should change that, Sir. Shows such as "Martin" and "Beverly Hills 90210" influence kids in a bad way. T.V. shows today are too violent. It teaches kids bad words, rude language, and makes them think of violence as cool. A lot of times when you see people cursing away at you on the street its probably the effect of television. You can make a change, you can make a difference, so do it!

In my opinion there should be more educational things on television. The shows on Discovery Channel are educational and not at all boring. It's actually pretty neat. The number of shows that are okay for the whole family should increase. Right now there are only rude comedies and boring violent shows on television. There should be more shows that are both educational and entertaining on television. (When I say entertaining I don't mean the rude and violent type) If there were less of that bad stuff on television there might be less violence in America today. There might also be higher grades in school.

If the people of today watch this type of stuff on television they might be 80 year old hippies someday. I hate to repeat myself but television is really affecting a lot of kids in a bad way. You could help millions of kids in the U.S. if you changed television. (For the better) Kid's are the future right? So, if television messes them up then our future isn't too bright. Come on, I want a bright future and you probably do too, so just clean up television the best you can.

I don't think that television is at fault alone. People don't have to watch or listen to it.

Well, that's about it, I also want to thank you for taking your time to read this. I'm looking forward to the change. Bye!

Sincerely,

Keith Chan

Dear Commissioner Hundt:

My summer was boring because there were not enough cartoons during the middle of the day. I will also tell you what shows I would like to see more and less of. Friday and Saturday night movies not Sunday and Monday night movies.

The shows I watch are not violent, yet are very funny and fun to watch. Like "Saved by the Bell" and "Pete and Pete." They show close friends and family. Friends that will do almost anything for others. Same with the family in "Pete and Pete."

"Saved by the Bell" tells you about how to be a teenager and what high school is like. It also has a series about collage. That's why I like that show a lot.

"Saved by the Bell" is good because it tells you a lot of stuff. "Pete and Pete" tells you how to get along with your family.

I want cartoons in the middle of the day. I ask of you to put cartoons in the middle of the day. Please write back if you can. Come to my classroom. Thank you for your time and interest.

Sincerely,

Ken Matterson

Dear Commissioner Hunt:

Television shows are very popular these days, especially to children. I feel that television shows should not include extreme violence. Things about family image, education and also about the environment should be included, instead of violence because it can sometimes influence little children to do bad things.

I consider shows such as "Full House" and "Family Matters" positive and educational because it can show how getting along is important in a family. Shows that deal with family problems are good because they show ways to solve problems peacefully and to help everyone get along with their family.

These shows are also entertaining because they contain much humor. I like these shows because I can watch these shows with my family without having to see any violence.

I think that these shows are appropriate to watch because children are the ones who watch these shows. They are good for children because they would not influence them to do bad things or to get into trouble.

I would appreciate it if you would kindly take action and improve television programs, especially those with violence. I also would really appreciate to see more shows that inspire love, education, and dealing with real life problems. Thank you for your time and cooperation for reading this letter.

Sincerely,

Chrystal Orpilla

Dear Commissioner Hundt :

Those kids who watch T.V. three hours a day certainly don't have something else to do. I get lots of homework and other things to do as well. My teacher, Mrs. Clary, told me and my classmates to write a letter to let you know what we think about T.V. programs. I didn't know what to do at first because I don't have a T.V. at home. My teacher told me to investigate among my classmates. I asked five kids in my class what are their favorite T.V. show.

Their favorite T.V. shows were " Super-Human Samurai Cyber Squad ", " The Simpsons ", " Full House ", " Family Matters ", and " Do You Have The Guts " .

I asked some of them why they liked their favorite T.V. shows. One said his T.V. show was very athletic and fun. It sounds like that there are some athletic T.V. shows and children like them. I think T.V. is boring and I can get along without it. I asked one kid if he thought T.V. was boring. He said, " No way! " Well, that's what he thinks.

There's one thing I like to say before I wrap up this letter. Try to keep bad language out of T.V. programs as much as possible. I really emphasize this because when little kids watch those all the way until they grow up, they may get used to bad language they hear from T.V. They may think it's normal. They will say, " Oh, my favorite T.V. show character always used bad words so I can bad words to. " I'd think it will be find if people can tune in many educational and fun T.V. shows. They'll appreciate it.

Sincerely Yours,

Thomas Patrinos

Dear Commissioner Hundt:

I think that you are doing a great job with the kids shows.

I like the new show called "Ronin Warriors". I think that you should put it on in the afternoon. It's very entertaining. It is upbeat and the good thing about it is that it's not violent. It does not say anything about people. That's good because you won't have any complaints about the show. It doesn't say anything about the world because it is just a cartoon and they are just trying to save the world. It does not influence my friends because they are just trying to save the world. I like it because it is a karate show and I like karate very much

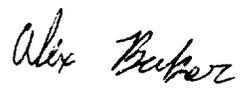

I like the show "Family Matters" and it is very good entertainment and a good family show. It's a very positive show and it is not violent. It is just about a family that has a neighbor they don't like. The thing it says about people that you should treat your family with respect. It really doesn't say anything about the world. It does influence kids to be nice to other people if you want them to be nice to you.

"Full House" is a very entertaining show and a great family show. It is very positive show and it is not violent at all. The things it says about people is that should get along. The thing it says about the world is every body in the world should get along. The thing I like about it is a funny and a good show.

I like the show the "Simpsons" it is very entertaining. It is upbeat and it is just a little violent but not that much. It doesn't say anything about the people. It does not say anything about the world. It does not influence me I don't know about my friends. I like it because it is a very good show to me and I like when one episode comes on another one comes on.

"Martin " is a entertaining show. It is upbeat and it is not violent. It does not say anything about people. The thing it says about the world is that people should get along and it doesn't influence me and my friends. I like it because it is a good show.

Sincerely
