Re: CC Docket No. 96-128: Implementation of the Pay Telephone
Reclassification and the Compensation Provisions of the Telecommunications Act of 1996

Dear Mr. Caton:

AT&T Corp. ("AT&T") respectfully submits this letter in response to the Motion for Extension of Time ("Motion") filed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company ("SWBT") in the above docket. SWBT reasonably requests that the Commission extend the time for the filing of reply comments from July 8, 1996 to July 12, 1996. AT&T supports this request and urges the Commission to grant SWBT's Motion.

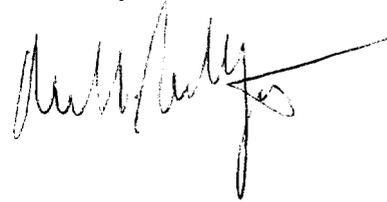

SWBT correctly notes that many industry participants and other parties will file comments in this important docket. Motion at 2. The current schedule allows for only 11 calendar days for parties to file reply comments. In addition to the need for additional time to analyze certain complex issues, the Fourth of July holiday is a factor affecting the time commenters will have for analysis and review of the comments. AT&T believes all parties will benefit from the extra time SWBT has requested and will therefore be better able to aid the Commission in developing a more thorough record.

No. of copies rec'd at 1
UNCLASSIFIED

AT&T also agrees with SWBT that this brief four day extension should permit adequate time for the Commission to meet its legislative mandates. Motion at 4.

Accordingly, AT&T requests that the Commission grant the Motion for Extension of Time filed by SWBT.

Sincerely,
