Quoting the LA Times:

And most important, free public access to unlicensed bandwidth of the radio spectrum would allow schools, libraries, government offices and community computer networks to get onto the information superhighway without having to pay for a commercial wire for each of their computers.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF SECRETARY

I am writing to urge the Commission to allocate NII spectrum for "Community Networks." I have been involved for many years in the creation of a community network in the Capital Region of New York State and know the importance such a band allocation would have for communities like ours.

Thank you for your attention.
