Subject: strengthening rules of Children's Television Act

I am writing in support of strengthening the rules requiring commercial broadcasters to air educational programs specifically designed for children. I urge the FCC to not accept programs designed to be entertainment for children and adult informational programs as meeting the requirements of the Children's Television Act of 1990. Thank you for considering my opinion.

I recently completed a paper on the recent changes in children's television. ~~One of the~~ The new three hour rule will be enforced, especially when license renewal begins. The broadcasters were given licenses based on their efforts to serve the public. They, like other aspects of our society, are aiming for profits and not for what the public necessarily wants or needs. Television is such a strong force that needs to benefit children since they spend an unbelievable amount of time watching it.
