RE: Ruling FCC 97-371

Gentlepersons:

This letter is a protest against the above ruling. We believe it is an unfair burden on consumers.

If the Pay Phone Service Providers must be compensated for non-coin calls, they should levy their fee directly on the user of the pay phone at the pay phone (i.e. require the user to deposit coins). This would allow the pay phone user to choose whether to pay the fee, or use another means to make the call.

Sincerely,

Debra S. Kiesig
