ORDER

Adopted: April 15, 1997

Released: April 15, 1997

By the Chief, Common Carrier Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, the Common Carrier Bureau ("Bureau") grants a limited waiver of the Commission's requirement that effective intrastate tariffs for payphone services be in compliance with federal guidelines, specifically that the tariffs comply with the "new services" test, as set forth in the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding, CC Docket No. 96-128.¹ Local exchange carriers ("LECs") must comply with this requirement, among others, before they are eligible to receive the compensation from interexchange carriers ("IXCs") that is mandated in that proceeding.²

2. Because some LEC intrastate tariffs for payphone services are not in full compliance with the Commission's guidelines,³ we grant all LECs a limited waiver until May 19, 1997 to file intrastate tariffs for payphone services consistent with the "new services" test,

3. The Bureau takes this action, in response to a request by the RBOC Coalition⁷ and Ameritech, pursuant to the authority delegated to it by the Commission in the Order on Reconsideration to determine whether a LEC has met the requirements of the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding prior to receiving compensation.⁸ The instant Order advances the twin goals of Section 276 of the Act by promoting both competition among payphone service providers ("PSPs") and the widespread deployment of payphone services to the benefit of the general public.⁹

⁴ Id. This Order does not waive any of the other federal guidelines for intrastate payphone service tariffs. See para. 10, below.

⁵ Implementation of the Pay Telephone Reclassification and Compensation Provisions of the Telecommunications Act of 1996, CC Docket No. 96-128, Order, DA 97-678 (Com. Car. Bur., rel. Apr. 4, 1997) ("Bureau Waiver Order").

II. BACKGROUND

4. In the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding, the Commission noted that Telecommunications Act of 1996 fundamentally changed telecommunications regulation. It stated that the 1996 Act erects a "pro-competitive deregulatory national framework designed to accelerate rapid private sector deployment of advanced telecommunications and information technologies and services to all Americans by opening all telecommunications markets to competition."¹⁰ To that end, the Commission advanced the twin goals of Section 276 of the Act of "promot[ing] competition among payphone service providers and promot[ing] the widespread deployment of payphone services to the benefit of the general public. . .".¹¹ It sought to eliminate those regulatory constraints that inhibit the ability both to enter and exit the payphone marketplace, and to compete for the right to provide services to customers through payphones. At the same time, the Commission recognized that a transition period is necessary to eliminate the effects of some long-standing barriers to full competition in the payphone market. For this reason, it concluded that it would continue, for a limited time, to regulate certain aspects of the payphone market, but only until such time as the market evolves to erase these sources of market distortions.¹²

5. In the Payphone Order, the Commission concluded that, consistent with Section 276 of the Act, PSPs are to be compensated for "each and every completed intrastate and interstate call" originated by their payphones.¹³ For the first year of the compensation provided by the Payphone Order, the Commission required those IXCs with annual toll revenues in excess of $100 million to pay PSPs proportionate shares, based on their respective market shares, of interim, flat-rated compensation in the amount of $45.85 per payphone per month.¹⁴ This monthly amount is to compensate each payphone for an average of 131 access code calls and subscriber 800 calls. The Commission concluded that LEC PSPs would be eligible to receive this compensation by April 15, 1997, once the LEC, among other things, terminated certain subsidies flowing to its payphone operations.¹⁵

6. In the Order on Reconsideration, the Commission concluded that to be eligible to receive compensation, a LEC must be able to certify the following:

- 1) it has an effective cost accounting manual ("CAM") filing; 2) it has an effective interstate CCL tariff reflecting a reduction for deregulated payphone costs and reflecting additional multiline subscriber line charge ("SLC") revenue; 3) it has effective intrastate tariffs reflecting the removal of charges that recover the costs of payphones and any intrastate subsidies; 4) it has deregulated and reclassified or transferred the value of payphone customer premises equipment ("CPE") and related costs as required in the Report and Order; 5) it has in effect intrastate tariffs for basic payphone services (for "dumb" and "smart" payphones); and 6) it has in effect intrastate and interstate tariffs for unbundled functionalities associated with those lines.¹⁶

In addition, the Commission clarified "that the requirements of the Report and Order apply to inmate payphones that were deregulated in an earlier order."¹⁷

7. The Commission also applied additional requirements to those LECs that are BOCs:

In addition to the requirements for all other LECs, BOCs must also have approved [comparably efficient interconnection ("CEI")] plans for basic payphone services and unbundled functionalities prior to receiving compensation. Similarly, prior to the approval of its [CEI] plan, a BOC may not negotiate with location providers on the location provider's selecting and contracting with the carriers that carry interLATA calls from their payphones.¹⁸

8. In the Order on Reconsideration, the Commission concluded that where LECs have already filed intrastate tariffs for payphone services, states may, after considering the requirements of the Order on Reconsideration, the Payphone Order, and Section 276, conclude: (1) that existing tariffs are consistent with the requirements of the Payphone Order, as revised in the Order on Reconsideration, and (2) that in such case no further filings are required.¹⁹

III. LIMITED WAIVER PERTAINING TO STATE TARIFFING REQUIREMENTS

A. Background

9. The Commission concluded in the Order on Reconsideration that LECs are required to tariff basic payphone lines (smart, dumb, and inmate) at the state level only.²⁰ Unbundled features and functions provided to others and taken by a LEC's payphone operations, however, must be tarified in both the intrastate and interstate jurisdictions.²¹ In addition, in the Payphone Order, the Commission required that, pursuant to the mandate of Section 276(b)(1)(B), incumbent LECs must remove from their intrastate rates any charges that recover the costs of payphones. The Payphone Order required that states determine the intrastate rate elements that must be removed to eliminate any intrastate subsidies. These revised rates must be effective no later than April 15, 1997.²²

10. In the recent Bureau Waiver Order, we emphasized that LECs must comply with all of the enumerated requirements established in the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding, except as waived in the Bureau Waiver Order, before the LECs' payphone operations are eligible to receive the payphone compensation provided by that proceeding. The requirements for intrastate tariffs are: (1) that payphone service intrastate tariffs be cost-based, consistent with Section 276, nondiscriminatory and consistent with Computer III tariffing guidelines;²³ and (2) that the states ensure that payphone costs for unregulated equipment and subsidies be removed from the intrastate local exchange service and exchange access service rates.²⁴ We stated in the Bureau Waiver Order that LEC intrastate tariffs must comply with these requirements by April 15, 1997 in order for the payphone operations of the LECs to be eligible to receive payphone compensation. The Bureau Waiver Order also clarified the unbundled features and functions subject to the requirements of the Payphone Proceeding.²⁵

11. We noted in the Bureau Waiver Order that the guidelines for state review of intrastate tariffs are essentially the same as those included in the Payphone Order for federal tariffs.²⁶ On reconsideration, the Commission stated that although it had the authority under Section 276 to require federal tariffs for payphone services, it delegated some of the tariffing requirements to the state jurisdiction. The Order on Reconsideration required that state tariffs for payphone services meet the requirements outlined above.²⁷ The Order on Reconsideration provides that states that are unable to review these tariffs may require the LECs to file the tariffs with the Commission.²⁸

12. The Bureau Waiver Order also clarified that, for purposes of meeting all of the requirements necessary to receive payphone compensation, the question of whether a LEC has effective intrastate tariffs is to be considered on a state-by-state basis. Under this approach, assuming the LEC has complied with all of the other compliance list requirements,²⁹ if a LEC has effective intrastate tariffs in State X and has filed tariffs in State Y that are not yet in effect, then the LEC PSP will be able to receive payphone compensation for its payphones in State X but not in State Y. The intrastate tariffs for payphone services, including unbundled features, and the state tariffs removing payphone equipment costs and subsidies must be in effect for a LEC to receive compensation in a particular state.

B. Request for Waiver and Comments

13. On April 10, 1997, the RBOC Coalition, joined by Ameritech, requested that the Commission grant a limited waiver to extend for 45 days the requirement that a LEC's intrastate tariffs for payphone services comply with the federal guidelines set forth in paragraph 163 of the Order on Reconsideration, specifically that those tariffs satisfy the "new services"³⁰ test.³¹ It requests that this 45-day period correspond to the same period of time that the Commission granted in its April 4, 1997 Bureau Waiver Order for limited waiver of the LECs' federal tariffs.³² The RBOC Coalition states that it is not seeking a waiver of the requirement that all of the BOCs have effective intrastate tariffs by April 15, 1997 for basic payphone lines and unbundled features and functions.³³

14. In support of its request, the RBOC Coalition argues that none of the BOCs "understood the payphone orders to require existing, previously-tariffed intrastate payphone services, such as the COCOT line, to meet the Commission's new services test."³⁴ It further argues that, in some states, there may be a discrepancy between the existing state tariff rates and state tariffs that comply with the new services test, which would require the LEC to file new tariff rates.³⁵ In most states, however, the RBOC Coalition states, "ensuring that previously tariffed payphone services meet the new services test . . . should not be too problematic."³⁶ The RBOC Coalition argues that this 45-day period would allow the LECs to file new intrastate tariffs in the states where it is necessary without delaying its eligibility to receive compensation.³⁷ It also states that special circumstances exist for a waiver in that the federal new services test had not previously been applied to existing state services, and that the LECs did not understand until the release of the Bureau Waiver Order that the Commission meant to require application of this test to those services.³⁸ The RBOC Coalition also states that "[e]ach LEC will undertake to file with the Commission a written ex parte document, by April 15, 1997, attempting to identify those tariff rates that may have to be revised."³⁹ In addition, the RBOCs state that they voluntarily commit "to reimburse or provide credit to those purchasing the services back to April 15, 1997" . . . "to the extent that the new tariff rates are lower than the existing ones."⁴⁰

15. In ex parte documents filed in response to the submission of the RBOC Coalition, AT&T and MCI each argue that there is no basis for the BOCs' claim that they did not understand that basic intrastate payphone tariffs had to comply with the Commission's "new services" test.⁴¹ In addition, Sprint filed an ex parte document stating that "[w]hether or not the RBOCs exercised good faith in ignoring the plain language of paragraph 163 of the Reconsideration Order . . . is beside the point[.]" because the RBOCs should not be entitled to receive compensation unless they are in compliance with all of the requirements of Section 276 and the Commission's rules.⁴² Both MCI and Sprint oppose the RBOC Coalition's request for a waiver.⁴³ AT&T states, however, that it takes no position on the merits of the RBOC Coalition's request for a waiver, "provided that all necessary cost-based tariffs are in place within the waiver period established by the Bureau's April 4, 1997 Order."⁴⁴

16. More specifically, AT&T contends that the Commission should reiterate that a LEC is not eligible for payphone compensation "until it has provided proof of state action verifying the LEC's compliance with Section 276[.]" particularly with regard to the elimination of intrastate payphone subsidies.⁴⁵ AT&T states that the available evidence, namely the "wide and unexplained gap between the reasonably expected rate impacts of the removal of LEC payphone equipment from their regulated accounts and recent actual intrastate rate reductions," suggest that LECs have not removed intrastate payphone subsidies.⁴⁶ MCI argues that while there will be no harm to the BOCs if they are required to have effective intrastate tariffs before they receive compensation, the IXCs that are required to pay the compensation will be harmed because the BOCs will be receiving the compensation provided by the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding while they are still recovering payphone costs through tariffed services.⁴⁷ MCI also argues that the request of the RBOC Coalition would be properly treated as an untimely petition for reconsideration of the Commission's payphone orders.⁴⁸ Sprint contends that the practical effect of granting the relief requested by the RBOC Coalition would be to allow the BOCs to receive compensation before they have in effect cost-based rates at the state level for their payphone services.⁴⁹ Sprint contends further that it is inconceivable that this "premature imposition of [the compensation] burden on IXCs and their customers could be squared with the public interest . . .".⁵⁰ On the other hand, Sprint states that it would not object to allowing the LECs to defer the effective date of the reductions in their interstate common carrier line reductions in those states where they have yet to fulfill all of the requirements for compensation.⁵¹

AT&T further contends that "[s]pecifically, the Commission should make it clear that no LEC is entitled to receive payphone compensation in any state until (1) it provides evidence that its state commission has actually considered these matters and (2) the state has affirmatively determined that all payphone subsidies have been eliminated from intrastate rates." 17. The American Public Communications Council ("APCC"), a trade association of independent PSPs, contends in an ex parte filing that there was no ambiguity in the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding that existing payphone service tariffs are subject to the "new services" test.⁵² APCC further contends that allowing the LECs to collect compensation before "complying with a key condition for any competitive telecommunications market -- cost-based interconnection with bottleneck facilities -- would be contrary to the basic purposes of the Act and the [Payphone Reclassification Proceeding]."⁵³ APCC proposes, instead, that the LECs should be allowed "to defer the effective date of . . . detariffing requirements for a 90-day period to allow them to bring their state payphone services tariffs into compliance with the [Payphone Reclassification Proceeding], provided that the LEC refiles all its state-tariffed services offered to PSPs, so as to ensure state commissions an opportunity to review all payphone interconnection services under the required uniform pricing standard."⁵⁴ APCC argues that the Commission "must simply order all tariffs to be refiled."⁵⁵

C. Waiver

18. Upon reviewing the contentions of the RBOC Coalition and the language it cites from the two orders in the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding, we conclude that while the individual BOCs may not be in full compliance with the intrastate tariffing requirements of the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding, they have made a good faith effort to comply with the requirements. The RBOC Coalition concedes that the Commission's payphone orders, as clarified by the Bureau Waiver Order, mandate that the payphone services a LEC tariffs at the state level are subject to the new services test and that the requisite cost-support data must be submitted to the individual states.⁵⁶ In addition, the RBOC Coalition states that it will take whatever action is necessary to comply with the Commission's orders in order to be eligible to receive payphone compensation at the earliest possible date.⁵⁷ Therefore, we adopt this Order, which contains a limited waiver of the federal guidelines for intrastate tariffs, specifically the requirement that LECs have filed intrastate payphone service tariffs as required by the Order on Reconsideration and the Bureau Waiver Order that satisfy the new services test, and that effective intrastate payphone service tariffs comply with the "new services" test of the federal guidelines for the purpose of allowing a LEC to be eligible to receive payphone compensation, as discussed below. The existing intrastate tariffs for payphone services will continue in effect until the intrastate tariffs filed pursuant to the Order on Reconsideration, the Bureau Waiver Order and this Order become effective. Because other LECs may also have failed to file the intrastate tariffs for payphone services that comply with the "new services" test of the federal guidelines, we apply this limited waiver to all LECs, with the limitations set forth herein.

19. Consistent with our conclusions above and in the interests of bringing LECs into compliance with the requirements of the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding, we waive for 45 days from the April 4, 1997 release date of the Bureau Waiver Order the requirement that LEC intrastate tariffs for payphone services comply with the "new services" test of the federal guidelines, as set forth in paragraph 163 of the Order on Reconsideration and clarified in the Bureau Waiver Order. Pursuant to the instant Order, LECs must file intrastate tariffs for payphone services, as required by the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding consistent with all the requirements set forth in the Order on Reconsideration, within 45 days of the April 4, 1997 release date of the Bureau Waiver Order. Any LEC that files these intrastate tariffs for payphone services within 45 days of the release date of the Bureau Waiver Order will be eligible to receive the payphone compensation provided by the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding as of April 15, 1997, as long as that LEC has complied with all of the other requirements set forth in paragraph 131 (and paragraph 132 for the BOCs) of the Order on Reconsideration, subject to the clarifications and limited waiver in the Bureau Waiver Order.⁵⁸ Under the terms of this limited waiver, a LEC must have in place intrastate tariffs for payphone services that are effective by April 15, 1997. This waiver permits the LEC to file intrastate tariffs that are consistent with the "new services" test of the federal guidelines set forth in the Order on Reconsideration, as clarified by the Bureau Waiver Order.⁵⁹ The existing intrastate payphone service tariffs will continue in effect until the intrastate tariffs filed pursuant to this Order become effective.⁶⁰

20. The RBOC Coalition and Ameritech have committed, once the new intrastate tariffs are effective, to reimburse or provide credit to its customers for these payphone services from April 15, 1997, if newly tariffed rates, when effective, are lower than the existing rates. This action will help to mitigate any delay in having in effect intrastate tariffs that comply with the guidelines required by the Order on Reconsideration, including the concern raised by MCI that the subsidies from payphone services will not have been removed before the LECs receive payphone compensation.⁶¹ A LEC who seeks to rely on the waiver granted in the instant

⁵⁸ Because the industry has elected to bill for and pay out compensation on a quarterly basis, the actual payment for compensation that begins to accrue on April 15, 1997 will not be made until after the requisite intrastate tariffs are filed.

⁵⁹ Bureau Waiver Order at paras. 29-33.

⁶⁰ The states must act on the tariffs filed pursuant to this Order within a reasonable period of time. The Commission retains jurisdiction under Section 276 to ensure that all requirements of that statutory provision and the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding, including the intrastate tariffing of payphone services, have been met. 47 U.S.C. § 276.

⁶¹ Order on Reconsideration at para. 163.

Order must also reimburse their customers or provide credit, from April 15, 1997, in situations where the newly tariffed rates are lower than the existing tariffed rates. We note, in response to the arguments raised by the IXCs, that because this Order does not waive the requirement that subsidies be removed from local exchange service and exchange access services, the "harm" to the IXCs resulting from the delayed removal of subsidies from some intrastate payphone service tariffs will be limited.

21. We conclude that the waiver we grant here, which is for a limited duration to address a specific compliance issue, is consistent with, and does not undermine, the rules adopted by the Commission in the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding. Therefore, we reject the various alternatives to granting a waiver that were suggested by APCC and the IXCs. More specifically, we conclude that APCC's proposal to require the refiling of all intrastate payphone service tariffs would unduly delay, and possibly undermine, the Commission's efforts to implement Section 276 and the congressional goals of "promot[ing] competition among payphone service providers and promot[ing] the widespread deployment of payphone services to the benefit of the general public. . .".⁶² In response to Sprint's proposal that we delay the effective date of the LECs' interstate carrier common line reductions, we conclude that the better approach would be to evaluate requests for such treatment by individual LECs on a case-by-case basis. In addition, we decline to treat the request of the RBOC Coalition as an untimely petition for reconsideration of the Commission's rules, because the RBOC Coalition does not seek reconsideration of the rules adopted in the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding, but instead seeks additional time, in a specific, limited circumstance, to comply with those rules.

22. In response to AT&T's arguments that a LEC must show proof that its intrastate tariffs have removed payphone subsidies consistent with Section 276, we note the Commission concluded that "[t]o receive compensation a LEC must be able to certify"⁶³ that it has satisfied each of the individual prerequisites to receiving the compensation mandated by the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding.⁶⁴ The Commission did not require that the LECs file such a certification with it. Nothing in the Commission's orders, however, prohibits the IXCs obligated to pay compensation from requiring that their LEC payees provide such a certification for each prerequisite. Such an approach is consistent with the Commission's statement that "we leave the details associated with the administration of this compensation mechanism to the parties to determine for themselves through mutual agreement."⁶⁵

23. Waiver of Commission rules is appropriate only if special circumstances

⁶³ Order on Reconsideration at para. 131 (emphasis added).

⁶⁴ See para. 6, above.

⁶⁵ Order on Reconsideration at para. 115.

warrant a deviation from the general rule⁶⁶ and such deviation serves the public interest.⁶⁷ Because the LECs are required to file, and the states are required to review, intrastate tariffs for payphone services consistent with federal guidelines, which, in some cases, may not have been previously filed in this manner at the intrastate level, we find that special circumstances exist in this case to grant a limited waiver of brief duration to address this responsibility. In addition, for the reasons stated above, our grant of a waiver in this limited circumstance, does not undermine, and is consistent with, the Commission's overall policies in CC Docket No. 96-128 to reclassify LEC payphone assets and ensure fair PSP compensation for all calls originated by payphones. Moreover, the states' review of the intrastate tariffs that are the subject of this limited waiver will enable them to determine whether these tariffs have been filed in accordance with the Commission's rules, including the "new services" test. Accordingly, we grant a limited waiver for 45 days from the April 4, 1997 release date of the Bureau Waiver Order the requirement that LEC intrastate tariffs for payphone services comply with the "new services" test of the federal guidelines, as set forth in paragraph 163 of the Order on Reconsideration, subject to the terms discussed herein. This Order does not waive any of the other requirements set forth in paragraphs 131-132 of the Order on Reconsideration.⁶⁸

IV. CONCLUSION

24. In this Order, the Bureau grants a limited waiver of the Commission's requirement that effective intrastate tariffs for payphone services be in compliance with federal guidelines, specifically that the tariffs comply with the "new services" test, as set forth in the Payphone Reclassification Proceeding. LECs must comply with this requirement, among others, before they are eligible to receive the compensation from IXC's that is mandated in that proceeding.

25. Because some LEC intrastate tariffs for payphone services are not in full compliance with the Commission's guidelines, we grant all LECs a limited waiver until May 19, 1997 to file intrastate tariffs for payphone services consistent with the guidelines established in the Order on Reconsideration, subject to the terms discussed herein. This waiver enables LECs to file intrastate tariffs consistent with the "new services" test of the federal guidelines required by the Order on Reconsideration and the Bureau Waiver Order, including cost support data, within 45 days of the April 4, 1997 release date of the Bureau Waiver Order and remain eligible to receive payphone compensation as of April 15, 1997, as long as they are in compliance with all of the other requirements set forth in the Order on Reconsideration. Under the terms of this limited waiver, a LEC must have in place intrastate tariffs for payphone services that are effective by April 15, 1997. The existing intrastate tariffs for payphone services will continue in effect until the intrastate tariffs filed pursuant to the Order on Reconsideration and this Order become
