

Lack of Respect for the Commission's Rules

The creation of any expanded relationship between the frequency coordinators and the Commission is fraught with danger. It would create a situation that was ripe for abuse. The many examples of arrogant abuse of power demonstrated in this discussion should make this fact crystal clear.

The approval by the Commission of this ARRL petition is the first step in empowering the NFCC to a position of political control as the "coordination god." There are ulterior motives, not explained in the proposal. This lack of candor should not be rewarded. It has been demonstrated in this discussion that the NFCC is attempting to deceive the Amateur Community, deceive the Commission, take over control of the local coordination councils by arrogant, heavy handed tactics, and intimidation, drive certain modes which are legal under Commission Rules from certain bands, when the NFCC leadership cannot get certain elements of their agenda passed by their membership they seek changes to their bylaws which would allow them to pass these elements of their agenda over the objection of their membership. Approving this ARRL petition is the first step in empowering this private sector NFCC monopoly and this corrupt NFCC leadership.

These people have shown a consistent gross disrespect for the Commission through their acts of misrepresentation and deceit. They have also shown a gross disrespect for the Commission's rules through their consistent failure to uphold the definition of a Frequency Coordinator and through their attempt to thwart the Commission's intent that the Amateur Radio Service licensees in a local or regional area decide for themselves who their Frequency Coordinator will be.

The Commission has a duty to say NO to this. The Commission has a duty to dismiss this ARRL petition for rulemaking<sup>11</sup>. The Commission has a duty to uphold it's just and reasonable Rules and to uphold the public's protection under "The Administrative Procedures Act."

Conclusion

The Commission should wholly reject this inappropriate petition and reaffirm its current Rules. It should also state that in situations such as exist in Indiana that the "marketplace," that is the "amateur operators whose stations are eligible to be auxiliary or repeater stations in a local or regional area<sup>12</sup>" and not a private sector lobbyist or a "coordination god" shall ultimately determine what group or groups shall serve as the "recognized" Frequency Coordinators. RM-9259 should therefore be dismissed with full prejudice. The valuable time of the Commission's staff should not be consumed with this proposal any further.

<sup>11</sup> The Commission has already, wisely designated this petition for comment, thus sidestepping the inappropriate tactics suggested by their request for a "declaratory ruling." We understand from the ARRL's statement in "The ARRL Letter" Vol. 17, No. 17 dated April 24, 1998 that "designating a request for 'declaratory Ruling' for public comment is unusual." See Exhibit "C"

Subject: Meeting Attendance-Voting-News Media & Other Klingons

1 AUG - 2150 CDT

I have been listening to all of the thoughts and comments flowing back and forth on this re-mailer, and while I don't necessarily agree with all of the ideas put forth, I think it is great that we have this facility available to the coordination community. While this re-mailer is not totally removed from the general amateur public's view, it is pretty good - which leads me to thoughts on the media:

1. MEDIA: I do not think it is a good idea to allow this re-mailer to be accessed by the amateur news media, reps from the manufacturing and sales organizations, or "interested" individuals. We need this forum to exchange ideas without the necessity of having to defend ourselves in public. The various Klingons and Romulans will eventually pick up the gist of what is said - but by the time they do, the information will either be out of date, discarded, or agreed upon - so that their observations will not carry much weight.
2. MEETING ATTENDANCE: I would prefer that the various forms of life discussed in #1 above be excluded from the meeting - but this is not really practical. Instead they should be allowed to attend in silence. Lobbying in the halls outside of the meeting is OK, but no comments or suggestions from the floor. This of course means that those entitled to speak will have to have a prominently displayed ID badge of some type listing who they are and who they represent.

As a corollary to this, the media should be held accountable for what they publish and the manner in which it is published. I don't know how this can be done, but it should be done.

3. VOTING: I have now read of several ideas on voting. Obviously, it should be done ONLY by representatives of the various coordination entities in the country. But an old familiar problem arises about who should be the representative(s) from each entity.

The voting representative from Illinois WILL NOT be our frequency coordinator. The Illinois Repeater Association Frequency Coordinator is the "hired gun" appointed by the IRA President with the advice and consent of the IRA Board of Directors. Our FC is asked to provide input on coordination rules, policy, and procedures - but he does not get to vote on what they will be. This serves to isolate him from most of the political pressures attendant with many coordination requests. I would also add that frequency decoordinations are handled by our board using a very specific set of procedures.

If there is to be only one designated voting representative per state coordination group, that person from Illinois will be the IRA President or in his absence, the IRA Vice President.

However, if the voting is to be limited, as privately suggested to me by a few people, to only the recognized regional coordination organizations -- many states with recognized coordination groups would be disfranchised. In this category are MACC, T-MARC, T-SARC, and a few others, and SERA which does not have individual state groups within its organization.

At the other extreme are a few sparsely populated states with little more than a couple of locally recognized volunteer coordinators, who under the one vote per state concept would have voting power equal to those states with far more amateurs, repeaters, digipeaters, etc.

Lacking a better method, I suggest that the voting should be weighted state by state, using a weight factor based on amateur population, number of coordinated repeaters, or some other factor to reflect spectrum user population - with each state having a minimum of 1 vote.

4. AGREEMENT: Whatever voting system is used, it must be agreed to by the majority of the recognized coordination groups present. And my interpretation of the term "recognized coordination groups" means those groups and individuals facilitating and/or actually doing coordination work - not the wannabes and rogue coordinators that are planning on attending this meeting.

These are my thoughts on these matters. VOTING rules are the most important item - everything else is affected by whatever voting rules we adopt. Without majority agreement on who is to vote and how much weight to give each vote (or how many votes per state), nothing substantial will be done.

Give it your best shot guys...

 Wireless Telecommunications Bureau,
 Federal Communications Commission

Proposed Agenda

1. Discussion and Decision: Response to FCC request that it be provided a single point of contact with the coordination community, through which the FCC would recognize and support local and regional coordinators.
2. Discussion and Decision: Determination whether coordinators would support repeater licensing, subject to the applicant's acceptance of coordination recommendations and with provisions for trial or temporary operation.

Break

3. Organize breakout groups to discuss:

GROUP A. Purposes, funding and possible structure of an umbrella organization of coordinators including:

- 1) Relationship with the FCC;
- 2) Relationship with the ARRL;

3) Relationship with other user groups,
e.g. digital and ATV

GROUP B. Procedure for bringing coordination issues that cannot otherwise be resolved to the FCC for action; rules changes required to improve coordination process.

GROUP C. How to develop standards for service by coordinators, dispute resolution, how appeals of local coordinators decisions should be handled and orderly succession of coordinators/coordination bodies.

GROUP D. The extent to which coordinators should coordinate emitters other than repeaters, whether coordinators should attempt to resolve interference between repeaters and other kinds of amateur stations and how the introduction of new technologies should be recognized and encouraged by the coordination community.

Lunch

1:00 PM Brief status reports from each breakout group to the full meeting. Then breakout groups reconvene to continue their work.

4. Breakout groups report to the full meeting; Meeting considers acceptance of reports.
5. Summary of day's actions, determination of what happens next.
6. Selection of committees for follow-up, if appropriate.

5:00 PM Adjournment

Location Information:

Noah's Ark Hotel, St. Charles, Mo.
I-70 at 5th Street South
St. Charles, Missouri 63303
(314) 946-1000
(800) 332-3448
Free courtesy van from airport
Six miles west of airport on I-70

Who will vote:

Each state coordination organization will have one vote.

Multi-state umbrella organizations such as MACC or SERA will have an additional organizational vote.

Where a state is found to have more than one coordination organization within the state, each shall get one vote.

Where an organization has multiple coordinators or multiple service areas within a state that organization shall have only one vote.

At least one member of the ARRL Repeater AdHoc Committee will participate in each breakout group as a non-voting resource person.

Each breakout group will select its own chairman. All those who choose to go to a breakout group will be entitled to vote in that group regardless of the number of votes their organization has in the full meeting.

The chairman of each breakout group will report on recommendations of that group including minority or dissenting opinions to the full meeting.

Votes on reports of each breakout group will be taken at the final session.

The 1995-1996 ARRL Repeater Directory listing of coordination entities will be used to determine the number of entities entitled to vote at the general sessions.

Only Coordinator Organizations shall be entitled to vote at the full meeting.

Question: My group has 5 band coordinators, 4 state area coordinators, a President and a Board of Directors. How many votes do we have?

Answer: In the full meeting you have ONE vote. In the breakout meetings all attendees who are representatives of coordination organizations are enfranchised to vote.

Proxies will NOT be accepted. Only those at the meeting may vote as per the above.

A note from the AdHoc Committee: The Committee believes that few, if any, votes will need to be taken as most issues should be handled by consensus. Where issues clearly have no consensus they may be identified and put on the agenda for future work.

Special note: If you know of potential attendees, please send a list of names to me for logistical purposes. I will forward the list to ARRL Headquarters and to other places for planning purposes. We want to make sure that the facilities in St. Charles are adequate.
