

Finally, I remain concerned that the report fails to address fully the issues raised by the GAO report regarding the legality of the Commission creating any new corporations without specific statutory authority. I fail to see how the Commission can direct that these corporations continue to act without first receiving the requisite authorization from Congress, and urge others to comment on this aspect of the revised organization.