

60000867918.txt

The internet was designed for a control purpose but then something happened. Freedom of the individual would rise from the ashes into the age of information. If liberty is to rise once again to stomp out tyranny once and for all the internet must be the tip of the spear. For this reason it is and always remain free for all humanity until we win :) god bless the internet.