

Latest Comcast Lies for TWC Deal

Comcast's David Cohen in responding to critics of the TWC merger claims satellite competitor Dish Network unlike Comcast reaches 100% of pay TV homes without providing any conclusive proof to back up that statement. He calls Discovery Communications 'the self proclaimed' '#1 TV programmer in the World' and a $25 billion company that has grown by $10 billion in market capitalization in just three years. " So What? He makes a meaningless statement: 'Netflix is "the country's largest subscription video provider with 36 million domestic customers and a controller of a third of Internet traffic.' Fact: Netflix controls none of their traffic, Time Warner Cable and Comcast control 70% of Netflix traffic. The real issue is liars like this win too often.
