There should now and forever be free flowing information that all American's can receive at an affordable rate. It should not be subjected to filtering by money. Information is freedom and freedom is what this country is founded on. Disrupting and or tiering this information flow would be one more giant step in the huge divide between the haves and the have nots or even worse a divide between the chosen approved citizen and those free thinkers that might not subscribe to the popular march. This is not a time to sell out. You work for all of America, not just the cable companies!!!
