

60000971501.txt

Its a disgrace that Tennessee has adopted laws that prevent communities from providing their own broadband. In today's modern world internet access should be a fundamental right, instead it has been turned into an expensive privilege by the squalid, rent seeking, monopolistic corporations aided and abetted by their bought and paid for politicians. Its up to the FCC to right this wrong once and for all.