FUCK THIS SHIT. This proposal will take away of the only actual free markets... once again due to corporate greed and power. This proposed law should not even be up for debate... but then again like the U.S. these days, if you can make more money from it and it'll help the GDP then WHATEVER it is, is a good idea - also having a large political action campaign that puts your people into the governmental offices is quite helpful.
I agree 100% with everything John Oliver says in his clip from "Last Week Tonight"
