

60000979302.txt

The United States has the a majority stake and control over the internet that the entire world uses. To remove net neutrality is to destroy and possibly ruin the best and probably the most important human invention for millennia.

Please, keep the internet an open and safe place for all. Hear the cries of the entire world, that this is perhaps a moment in human history that our ability to govern ourselves on this world may have ruined us all.