

60000979605.txt

Dear FCC,

The FCC should continue to provide paper license documents to Amateur Radio licensees, and is something that should not be discontinued, because there are times when an actual amateur radio license needs to be shown, and a licensee will never get the effect of the official paper and official paper color on some printers.

Sincerely, Victor Magana.