Hello,

I will keep this brief. Please do the right thing. Greed will only lead you to a life, or after life, of misery. Greed is what you call this, greed is living so comfortably in a mansion and still wanting more.

We the customers will ultimately pay the bill, we the customers will ultimately take the hits that company's like "NetFlix" will get if you allow this to happen. Please keep net neutrality. If not, i will simply unplug my TV and deactivate my streaming services. I understand that money/power must always grow, but you if you were on our end what would you do?
