I'll try to and make this short and sweet. I realize that we already live in a fascist oligarchy and that corporate lobbyist have controlled our government for a long time. Furthermore, i really dont expect that the citizens opinions or freedom matter at all to the corporate schills. I had really hoped that this form of nazi style government would not occur in our country but i guess guess it was not to be. Givin the fact that the head of the FCC is nothing more than a politacally connected lobbyist who's task is to further the control of treasonous, gastapo like companies who have been spying on us and then lying about it. Since these companies like at&t and verizon, (as well as many others) who have no history of telling the truth and now get to buy our public policies and get to do anything they want, that sure is who I want in charge of communications.
