

60000984147.txt

I think a national broadband plan would be awesome. How is it that America continues to fall behind in both the price and speed of our internet? Its hurting our ability to be competitive and innovate.