

60000985776.txt

As a shareholder of Verizon and AT&T i urge you to eliminate net neutrality. i have noticed that profit margins at these two companies are shrinking and we need to give their virtual cartel as internet service providers the power they need to squeeze internet content providers for as much money as they possibly can. i am confident they will not abuse such power to "shake down" their customers who require access to higher bandwidth. after all putting enormous trust in giant for-profit mega-corporations has served our nation so well in the past.

sincerely,
jeffrey meredith