

60000986218.txt

I support Net Neutrality. The eyes of America are upon you, and stifling innovation and freedom of expression through pay-to-play content differentiation will have negative repercussions for both the country and your agency. I strongly recommend that network providers be regulated in the same fashion as utilities, and that the undue influence bought by cable company lobbyists should be overruled by public opinion. Please hear our voices and save Net Neutrality.