

60000987245.txt

I support the President's position on net neutrality. It is a start to fixing some of the current problems. I have broadband and pay more for it but often don't get the speeds I'm paying for. Is this due to a monopoly? Possibly. The companies had a chance to self regulate and solve some of the problems, but they weren't interested.