

60000987813.txt

Internet service, broadband and otherwise, MUST be classified as "Telecommunications Service" with all the restrictions and responsibilities that classification carries with it. Almost all of our communications today are through some form of internet service. This is a matter of citizen rights and of free speech. These rights must NOT be sold to the highest bidder.