

60000989078.txt

I support President Obama's recent call for the FCC to extend its legal authority over phone companies, codified in Title II of the Communications Act, to Internet service providers. We must protect true net neutrality. Internet service providers and governments should be required to treat all data on the Internet equally, not discriminating or charging differentially by user, content, site, platform, application, type of attached equipment, or mode of communication.