

60000991416.txt

I believe somewhere it states that the government is supposed to separate large companies that gain a monopoly on the market? As of late I have simply seen merger, after merger, after merger, of large companies becoming mega corporations.... this needs to stop. Competition in a market is that keeps things fair and equal for consumers no matter what any corporation says.