

60001005976.txt

There's a reason why Comcast has one of the worst customer service. It's b/c they don't care about the customers. The simple fact that our country has one of the slowest and unreliable internet compared to other countries is a shame. It costs too much for the service and their only goal is to make more money. Simply put, if you really think they're trying to "better" the internet by cleaning it up, you a fool.