This attempt by the phone companies to limit their responsibilities by not supporting 2/3/4G cell phones is eliminating a large segment of the US population and putting all those individual lives at stake should they ever need to call 911 for help. This shows a total lack of caring for lives by the phone companies, how sad is that? In addition, this is also a way for those companies to reduce the expenses, technology, support and number of workers needed to install and support a fully compatible 911 system, i.e. horizontal & vertical location technology inside buildings. In short, just another ploy by big business to make money at the expense of people's lives.
