This petition should be denied. The industry is asking for anarchy. It would be a terrible destructive precedent.

"We the people" (myself included) strongly object, and especially those people living next door to these dens of inequity, who will suffer collateral damage.

This petition should also be declared un-American.

The industry could achieve the same goals by marketing their products at a reasonable price. By charging customers the equivalent of an hours wage, they have created their own problem.

Respectfully submitted,

Steven R. Sampson, K50KC
