Please promulgate rules that prevent Internet Service Providers from favoring any web content or service. There is little competition between ISPs which leaves consumers and especially small business owners like myself at the mercy of an unfair system. Without net neutrality rules that regulate the internet like a utility Internet service providers will be allowed to favor their own content and charge extra fees to others for VIP treatment. This would create a two-tiered Internet with express lanes for the few who could afford the tolls ? and slow dirt roads for the rest of us.
