Re: Ex Parte Presentation of Nuclear Energy Institute ("NEI"), the Utilities Telecom Counsel ("UTC") and Various Nuclear Power Operators in WT Docket Nos. 08-166 and 08-167
ET Docket Nos. 10-24 and 14-165.
GN Docket Nos. 14-166 and 12-268.

Dear Ms. Dortch:

In a teleconference on January 26, 2015, Ellen C. Ginsberg, General Counsel of NEI, J. Jeffrey Craven of Thompson Coburn, LLP, representing NEI, Jonathan L. Wiener of Goldberg, Godles, Wiener & Wright LLP representing American Electric Power and Donald L. Herman, Jr. of Herman & Whiteaker, LLC representing Pinnacle West Capital Corp. (the undersigned), met via teleconference with Paul Murray, Geraldine Matise, Scot Stone, Hugh Van Tuyl, Rodney Conway and Alan Stillwell from the FCC's Office of Engineering and Technology and Wireless Telecommunications Bureau.

The representatives outlined the history of the nuclear plants' use of the Telex wireless headset equipment, as well as its unique capabilities. The representatives also discussed the special challenges associated with providing reliable communications services inside and around nuclear plants' containment buildings, and the fact that the Telex equipment has no peer when it comes to providing clear, hands-free communications, especially inside the containment buildings.

The representatives referred to the October 1, 2010 joint letter from the Office of Engineering and Technology and the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau (the "Waiver Letter") which granted the nuclear plants a modification of the blanket waiver provided under the Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (the "Rulemaking"), allowing the plants additional flexibility in their use of low power auxiliary devices in the television bands, and discussed ways that nuclear plants could continue to operate its Telex equipment given the changing landscape of the broadcast bands.

Should you have any questions regarding this ex parte meeting, please contact the undersigned.

Respectfully submitted,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "D. L. Herman, Jr.", with a long, sweeping flourish extending to the right.

Counsel for Pinnacle Capital Corp.
