

60001027281.txt

I strongly disagree with ending net neutrality! We must keep the internet an open forum and level playing ground, not some auction house where the richest can get what he wants as usual. The internet is for everyone and everyone deserves equality even if we can't get it from our government we demand to have a place for us.