To whom it may concern, I do not wish to see any Governmental control of the internet. It is a flourishing commodity and a perfect example of capitalism in progress. Please leave it alone and do not attempt to regulate any part of it. As bad as some parts of it may be, we deserve the right to view or not, any world-wide content therein, short of personally threatening someone's safety, life or liberties, slavery and child pornography. I will vote against any intervention and regulation by the Government, it's state and federal representatives or any of it's agencies of a free internet and all others in favor of any regulation to it and will urge everyone I know to do the same.
