

60001030038.txt

Internet should remain free of government regulations.

If government gains control internet will no longer be free trade eliminating small businesses and adding additional cost to all Internet associated activities.

It should be my choice which provider of broadband with no one regulating who I use or even have access to.

For example