

60001032926.txt

The proposed regulation of the internet should be stopped. No regulation is needed. It will make what is free and open, closed and tyrannical as is everything else this administration does. The imposition of these rules is unconstitutional. Citizens and companies alike should defy the rules, refuse to comply and engage in civil disobedience to shut down this act of tyranny. Congress should defund the FCC and ultimately abolish it.