Why is the head of the FCC a former lobbyist. That's like hiring Darth Vader to do a seminar on good parenting, or having OJ Simpson lead an anger management seminar. Great job guys.

I, like any person in their right mind not being payed by Time Warner Cable (shitty service by the way), am opposed to the dismantling of Net Neutrality.

So are Google, Amazon, Netflix and Facebook (in case you didn't realise, some pretty big names.)

Should this amendment pass, you're all assholes. Peace.
